Mr. President:

Attached are three sets of notes. They are taken in:

November 1963
December 1963
January 1964

I have reviewed all of these carefully and would recommend that we show to the writers, *especially Hardesty, the ones which I have marked with green tabs.

There are some unusually good notes on discussions with House and Senate leadership in getting the country back on stable footing after the assassination and also some unusually warm conversations with Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Also, there is a remarkably good story about how you put together the Warren Commission and follow through on the investigation.
